

Dear fans,

Yes, it's true. We, Piranha Bytes, are in a difficult situation. There are a lot of news about us circulating right now and this is our answer:

Don't write us off yet!

We do everything to continue creating worlds in which you can lose yourself. This is what our hearts have always beaten for.

We are convinced that we will succeed. We are creative minds and there's no lack of ideas! We stick together, no matter what.

Now, we are focussing on this goal with all our strength and do whatever it takes to find a partner for this project. As soon as there are any news, we will share them with you.

Thank you very much for your continuous support!

Your Piranhas